

Daddy's Gone

Holly Macve

Daddy's gone, he's long gone
And I never needed him like I should of done
There was nothing to let go of, there was nothing to keep hold of
And now he's gone, daddy's gone

Something's missing, in my soul
Something's given up on trying to feel whole Never loved me like he should have, I never loved him like I co uld have
And now he's gone, daddy's gone

Did you ever think of me like I thought of you?
Ooh, ooh, ooh, did you ever wonder about the things I liked to do?
And all this time we've spent changing and growing
Further and further apart

Everything's fine, everything's alright
But I just can't help but wonder, what it would of been like
If he's of stayed a little longer
If he'd of grown a little stronger, but now he's gone
Daddy's gone

Did you ever think of me like I thought of you?
Ooh, ooh, ooh, did you ever wonder about the things I liked to
do?
And all this time we've spent changing and growing
Further and further apart

Oh, yeah, he's gone, oh, oh, daddy's gone
Oh, yeah he's gone, oh, oh, daddy's gone
Yeah he's gone, daddy's gone
Ooh, yeah he's gone
