

Second Chances

Hollywood Undead

Help me to follow through the promise I made to you
Speak the truth, am I the substance you abuse?
No more mercy, no more shame
Lying lips and the words they waste, help me

Ain't it funny how life is such a struggle?
You've always got your back up against the wall
Maybe you were too quick to point your finger now
You know you've always been a wrecking ball

Running out of second chances
Dead friends and romances
It's taking all I got not to give, up, up
Give up, up
Running out of second chances
Dead friends and romances
Running out of second chances

Help me, have we gone too far to come back down?
Tell me, what's the use? I always lose
I need sleep now, I can't fight and I can't live
I have nothing left to give, help me

Ain't it funny how life is such a struggle?
You've always got your back up against the wall
Maybe you were too quick to point your finger now
You know you've always been a wrecking ball

Running out of second chances
Dead friends and romances
It's taking all I got not to give, up, up
Give up, up
Running out of second chances
Dead friends and romances
Running out of second chances
Running out of second chances

I'm running out of second chances

Give up, up
Give up, up
Running out of second chances
Dead friends and romances
Running out of second chances
Running out of second chances

I'm running, I'm running
Out of second chances
I'm running, I'm running
Out of second chances
