

Ghosts

Holy Holy

Take it out of me and I will find a way
Leave me here I could use the air
Oh I was you when was love was new
I was only falling back to where I grew

For the start
Would you know
Would you take me where I could go?
Could it be
All I find?
For to love here is to be divine

All I know is
All I hold is
All I am is you

When you wake me there
In the dead of night
I dreamed that I was falling from a height

I could be there
When you wanted me
(I knew)
When the love came back and you haunted me

For the start
Would you know
Would you take me where I could go?
Could it be
All I find?
For to love here is to be divine

All I know is
All I hold is
All I am is you

All I know is
All I hold is
All I am is you

Gold, I hear speaking
I hear tongues
(Walking around my street, it's cold)
I hear windows, I feel doors
(Walking with my feet on the coals)
Water flowing through my mind
(I can hear it in your sighs)
Eyes are closed, but I see light, I see light
(I can hear them walking by)

Pulling heartache, pulling blind
Pulling morning, pulling night
And I know it isn't right
But I want to know you're Alright, alright still
That you're Alright, alright

All I know is
All I hold is
All I am is you

All I know is
All I hold is
All I am is you

It is quiet, it is still
Still the moment we are in
It is never, it is now
It is always, it is prouder then

You were waking, you are dead
You are crying in your head or mine
We could never ever say
What we wished we'd say
