

Running Behind

Holychild

How can I go?
When I just leave you waiting
Drop on the floor, break it to go creative

Where can I leave my father's ride?
Wake me up when the voices die
Do me like you might know my mind
Carry me to the other side

I'm sorry still
For all the lies I'm baiting
I'm human here
People greed and mistaken

Where can I leave my father's ride?
Wake me up when the voices die
Do me like you might know my mind
Carry me to the other side

Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo
Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo

We'll grow apart, baby let's blame the planets
Make a new start, changing as if we meant it

Where can I leave my father's ride?
Wake me up when the voices die
Do me like you might know my mind
Carry me to the other side

Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo
Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo

Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo
Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo

I'll hold your hand like
It's not hurting me
Help you go through see some true as believe
We're only thing we see
When all we think is eat
Just say my name and tell me that we're better off
And when I'm leaving you
And when I'm loving you
Darling just tell me that the world is ours so gone

Where can I leave my father's ride?
Wake me up when the voices die
Do me like you might know my mind
Carry me to the other side

Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo
Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo

Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo
Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo

Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo
Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo

Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo
Running, running, running, running behind yeah
I'm always really running behind, yo
