

Saturday night, she's alone again
Nobody calls and nobody walks in
Downstairs shouting, and slamming doors
Another instalment in this daily war

It's been so long
It's been so long

Did no one ever tell you?
You're beautiful to see
You're young and alive but so restless
Beautiful
To me

You're keeping your dreams locked up in a drawer
Want to use them one day but you're just not sure
You've got to get on past these things that hold you down
There's a world out there spinning 'round and 'round

It's been so long

Did no one ever tell you?
You're beautiful to see
You're young and alive but so restless
Beautiful
To me
To me

Yeah, yeah

Did no one ever tell you?
You're beautiful to see
You're young and alive but so restless
Beautiful

Did no one ever tell you?
You're beautiful to see
You're young and alive but so restless
Beautiful
To me
To me
