

Stand Alone

Honeymoon Suite

Some things ya gotta let 'em go
And walk away
Sometimes you're the last to know
Got nothing to say
And all these hopes and all these dreams
Lay in front of me, don't know what it means

So I stand alone
In the face of everything
And I have always known
It doesn't change a thing

And I've pushed to the edge
And never look down
Win or lose it all, it comes around
I've seen the world turnin' cold
But I'm not afraid to make a mistake
What you hold inside, nobody takes

So I stand alone
In the face of everything
And I have always known
It doesn't change a thing

So I stand alone
In the face of everything
And I can hold my own
It doesn't change a thing

And I'm not afraid to make a mistake
What you hold inside, nobody takes

So I stand alone
In the face of everything
And I have always known
It doesn't change a thing

So I stand alone
In the face of everything
And I still always won
It doesn't change a thing

So I stand alone
And I can hold my own
It doesn't change a thing

And I stand alone
And I stand alone
It doesn't change a thing
