

What I know

Honeymoon Suite

In the time before the darkness
In the days long and filled with light
A thousand nights it takes to call out
To find once again a friend of mine

In time I might think things over
In light of what I see right now
And it can never be the same
Never be the same
Never be the same again
Oh I don't know what I know

Give the chance when you are open
Breathe in the air of hope
So many things I missed...
But then I turned around
Down there it's hard to cope
