

Location Unknown

Honne

Travelling places, I ain't seen you in ages
But I hope you come back to me
My mind's running wild with you faraway
I still think of you a hundred times a day

I still think of you too, if only you knew
When I'm feeling a bit down and I wanna pull through
I look over your photograph
And I think how much I miss you, I miss you
I wish I knew where I was 'cause I don't have a clue
I just need to work out some way of getting me to you
'Cause I will never find a love like ours out here
In a million years, a million years

My location unknown, tryna find a way back home to you again
I gotta get back to you, gotta gotta get back to you
My location unknown, tryna find a way back home to you again
I gotta get back to you, gotta gotta get back to you

I just need to know that you're safe, given that I'm miles away
On the first flight, back to your side
I don't care how long it takes, I know you'll be worth the wait
On the first flight, back to your side

Travelling places, I ain't seen you in ages
But I hope you come back to me
My mind's running wild with you faraway
I still think of you a hundred times a day

I still think of you too, if only you knew
I just need to work out some way of getting me to you
'cause I will never find a love like ours out here
In a million years, a million years

My location unknown, tryna find a way back home to you again
I gotta get back to you, gotta gotta get back to you
My location unknown, tryna find a way back home to you again
I gotta get back to you, gotta gotta get back to you

I just need to know that you're safe, given that I'm miles away
On the first flight, back to your side
I don't care how long it takes, I know you'll be worth the wait
On the first flight, back to your side

I don't want to be wasting time without you
Don't want to throw away my life, I need you
Something tells me we'll be alright, yeah
Something tells me we'll be alright, alright

I don't want to be wasting time without you
Don't want to throw away my life, I need you
Something tells me we'll be alright
Something tells me we'll be alright, alright

My location unknown, tryna find a way back home to you again
I gotta get back to you, gotta gotta get back to you
My location unknown, tryna find a way back home to you again

I gotta get back to you, gotta gotta get back to you

I just need to know that you're safe, given that I'm miles away
On the first flight, back to your side
I don't care how long it takes, I know you'll be worth the wait
On the first flight, back to your side

My location unknown, my location unknown
My location unknown, my location unknown, unknown
