

Fallen Star

Hoobastank

(All I wanna say, all I wanna say, say to you)

I will never understand how you do it
Lay your life out there on the line
No one ever deserves to go through it
I know I'm not brave enough to do it with mine

You are a star, my fallen star
And all I wanna say is thank you, thank you, thank you
A light gone dark, my fallen star
And all I wanna say is thank you, thank you, thank you
(All I wanna say, all I wanna say, say to you)
All I wanna say, all I wanna say, say to you)

There's no way to repay what you've given
That doesn't mean I won't try
Show you I'm loving the life that I'm living
I won't ever forget what you sacrificed

You are a star, my fallen star
And all I wanna say is thank you, thank you, thank you
A light gone dark, my fallen star
And all I wanna say is thank you, thank you, thank you
Thank you

Show me how to think about somebody else instead of me
Give yourself way for something bigger than you selflessly
Show me how to think about tomorrow in yours instead of me
Give yourself away for something bigger, bigger

You are a star, my fallen star
And all I wanna say is thank you, thank you, thank you
A light gone dark, my fallen star
And all I wanna say is thank you, thank you, thank you
Thank you, thank you

(All I wanna say, all I wanna say, say to you)
All I wanna say, all I wanna say, say to you)

Show me how to think about somebody else instead of me
Give yourself way for something bigger than you selflessly
Show me how to think about somebody else instead of me
Give yourself way for something bigger
