

August

Hooverphonic

It's June, still the rain feels cold
Summer isn't promising at all
The heating warms our deep cold hands
While I'm watching you

Pieces of coloured glass are covering
All but well-constructed walls
Artificial light and moon
While I'm watching you
Ohhh...

'Cause August will be so much warmer
September will be filled with cold
While I'm watching you
Ohhh, while I'm watching you

Water pouring down on your
Windshield and I hear your voice
Waiting for that late night thaw
While I'm watching you
Ohhh...

'Cause August will be so much warmer
September will be filled with cold
While I'm watching you
Ohhh, while I'm watching you
Ohhh...

'Cause August will be so much warmer
September will be filled with cold
While I'm watching you
Ohhh, while I'm watching you
Ohhh, while I'm watching you
Yeah, while I'm watching you
While I'm watching you
