Autoharp

Hooverphonic

You are my autoharp I push every button on your body I push the A minor, the E flat, the F major And especially the C sharp 7

You are my autoharp I play every string in your mind And even when I play them very loud They keep in tune But how will they sound soon

You are my autoharp I bought you in a pawn shop in Virginia You were cheap but in good condition Longing for someone to take you on an exotic trip

You are my autoharp I carried you all over the world In my hard case called the heart You're the reason for my blood to keep running Through my veins every album again
