

High Too Loo Rye

Hop Along

Mother once, I awoke as an old man my name was Stanley Forbes and I threw tin cans at everyone who passed my porch
I don't know why I did but I didn't throw them at the kids so I was a good guy

I remember yellin' hi
Too loo rye
It's the day before I die
So why
Too loo rye
Cause everybody is walking by? oh hi
Too loo rye
Its the day before I die
And I wanna sigh and cry Alongside my brothers

Mother once I awoke, as a squirrel and I jumped from tree to tr ee to tree to tree, it was me at the acme of my career I saved all I caught that year, which is a lot of acorns let me tell you
I was very resourceful and

I cried
Too loo rye
This is how it feels to fly so high
Too loo rye
This ain't nothing cash could buy oh hi
Too loo lyre
Tomorrow I could die
So I'm gonna climb the pines and have myself a time

Mother I dreamt I died last night see I was a lightbulb, left on a little too long and I burned t ill I was dead with a hundred good ideas in my head but I forgo t 'em all and they tried to throw me away but hey when they grabbed a hold of me they all would burn thei r hands and see that I was still quite hot with thought and so a little thought they got that they should keep me as a kind of warmth you can't get from a stove or hearth so I sought and thought and fraught and fought but then cooled down and said

Oh hi
Too loo rye
To think I had a light inside when I try
Too loo rye
To remember what I wanted to find so sigh

Too loo rye
I thought that I had died

But I think tonight I've got it right, I'm Stanley and the squi rrel the invisible light, I'm a lover liar, humble fire, I'm a little spider and a chicken on the wire climbin' tryin' sighin' cryin' laughin' highfivin' slowly dyin'

But I swear now that's alright, yeah I swear now that's alright
, mother I'm alright
