

Out For The Night

Horrorshow

Watching you across the distance that we seem to found between us
And I'm wondering if maybe I should give it all up
But it seems that I can't help it, coming back for second helpings
Even though the dish you serving just ain't filling me up
And I have tried to fake the sunshine and I make it maybe sometimes
But it's looking real stormy, makes me wanna stay indoors
Like that June long-weekend when we jumped into the deep end
But with me and you it's always, when it rains it pours
So now I'm thinking that the places that we've been along the way
It's kinda scary, I don't think I've ever been here before
But baby, I have seen this room, and if we telling the truth
Damn near wore myself into nothing from pacing this floor
Like I'm tired of the drama, wanna try a little harder
'Cause I'm sick of us always playing the hero or villain
Now my side of the bed feels wrong without you on my left
Your empty pillow, there's something missing and nothing will fill it
It's like

Out for the night, we both earned it
You with your friends, me with mine
Hey girl, where you crashing tonight? It's like
You say it's me (You say it's me)
But I think that maybe (But I don't know, though)
It's you (No, I don't know)

Ahh shit, another dramatised episode
We shake the foundation till there's nothing set in stone
Till we both so upset that we don't remember why
But whatever it was, I wish I'd let it go
But it don't take too much to spark the drama
And my heart's still ringing from the last attempt
Still not a day goes by when the sun don't shine
So I know I shouldn't listen what the darkness says
But she's a little too indifferent, exasperated
She gasps for air, turns away and lights a cigarette
I'm a little bit too intense, hit her with a
Whole lot of bullshit in the name of making a little sense
And in a sentence, "we lost our innocence", she says
And in a sense, she's right (She's right)
The best of friends, best of lovers, used to hide under covers
Now, lucky we make it a day without a fight, it's like

Out for the night, we both earned it
You with your friends, me with mine
Hey girl, where you crashing tonight? It's like
You say it's me (You say it's me)
But I think that maybe (But I don't know, though)
It's you (No, I don't know)

We used to be such good lovers
The envy of all of our friends
But something came down
That bought that same round
Somebody we could point to
You say it's me
But I think that maybe it's you

So now there's so much I could say, but I don't know how to say it
Or how much longer I can keep this meter up
Suffice to say when you left girl, believe that it hurt
The type of hurt reserved for those who been love
And we could still split a cab fare together on some one night
Stand up comedy of errors but we better than that Since we can't talk it out, I'ma walk it off
Take whatever's left, try keep it intact
Now it's time to change the locks on my heart shaped box
We've already read the ending, let's just skip on the read-through Digga-da, digga-da, digga-da, digga-digga-da
Yo, I tell you the rest when I see you; peace

Out for the night, we both earned it
You with your friends, me with mine
Hey girl, where you crashing tonight? It's like
You say it's me (You say it's me)
But I think that maybe (But I don't know, though)
It's you "Digga-da, digga-da, digga-da, digga-digga-da-da Yo, I tell you the rest when I see you"
Out for the night, we both earned it
You with your friends, me with mine
Hey girl, where you crashing tonight? It's like
You say it's me (You say it's me)
But I think that maybe (But I don't know, though)
It's you (No, I don't know)

So, I don't know. I guess... I guess what I'm tryna say is [?]
