

Yearn For You

Horrorshow

Oh my love
How I long to see your face
'Cause I'm missing your embrace
Like I miss those carefree days

I drag my feet through empty streets
And see the places where we'd meet
These memories, so bittersweet
Without you here I'm incomplete
The smell of ocean in the air
The wind is blowing through your hair
Just you and I without a care
So blissful, still so unaware
Stormy clouds were brewing in the distance
But how were we to know? (How were we to know?)
If only we could stay within that instant
And never let it go

Oh my love
How I long to see your face
'Cause I'm missing your embrace
Like I miss those carefree days
Oh my love
How I long to see your face
The steps that I retrace
You are the one thing
That nothing can replace

And from the window of the plane
I look across the rolling plains
To you at home so far away
Hold on my love, I'm on my way
And I can't really put it into words
Scared that it'll only make it worse
Missing you so much right now it hurts
With you's where I belong, and you got me singing

Oh my love
How I long to see your face
'Cause I'm missing your embrace
Like I miss those carefree days
Oh my love (Oh my love)
How I long to see your face (How I long to see your face)
The steps that I retrace
You are the one thing
That nothing can replace

My love, I yearn, yearn for you
That's why I turn, turn to you
I will return—turn to you
Because I yearn, yearn for you
You know I, I yearn, yearn for you
That's why I turn, turn to you
I will re—turn—turn to you
Because I yearn, yearn for you
Oh my love, you know that I will yearn for you

Oh my love
How I long to see your face (How I long to see your face)
'Cause I'm missing your embrace ('Cause I'm missing you, yeah, I'm missing)
Like I miss those carefree days (I'm missing your embrace)
Oh my love
How I long to see your face
The steps that I retrace
You are the one thing (One thing)
That nothing can replace
