

Sweet Machine

Horse Head

Once I was in love (Once I was in love)
At least it felt like love (Felt like love)
And then it felt like a song so then I made it a song
And then you said it felt wrong (And then you said it felt wrong)
And that you knew it was wrong (And that you knew it was wrong)
But then it hurt like hell, until I realized I was already in hell
So baby life goes on, for me a bit too long
When they said time heals all, boy were they wrong

Memory, cherish the memory
Cause you will remember me
Like the cold wind that December brings
Symmetry, our bodies in symmetry
I think I was made for you, cause you're a perfect fit for me
Sweet Machine, your body's a Sweet Machine
Tumbling endlessly, selling love made in a factory
Memory, cherish the memory
Cause you will remember me
Like the cold wind that December brings
Symmetry, our bodies in symmetry
I think I was made for you, cause you're perfect fit for me
Sweet Machine, your body's a Sweet Machine
Tumbling endlessly, selling love made in a factory
