Horse Head

And only as I stood there
Next to the girl with the blank stare
I realized that I've been here before
Lately like you're so obsessed with skeletons
That when I faded to irrelevance
I would do it so elegant

You never noticed me at all, no
You never noticed me at all
Now everybody's leavin'
Love you through the seasons
Don't you know I love you for no reason at all?
Except that you're my only thing
Got you over everything
You're my winter, spring, summer, and my fall

And when I kiss you, I keep my eyes closed
Imagining that this could be true
And when I miss you, I keep my eyes closed
And imagine that I'm there with you

And only as I stood there
Next to the girl with the chemicals
You're the only drug I should do
Lately like you're so obsessed with death
And got me in your debt
I think you might have got me confused

Love Gang, I don't want to die here
Nothin' left do to so baby, just lie here
I remember club lights beatin' on me hard
I still remember everything, catch you when you fall
