

A Few Words

Hotel Books

I used to be afraid of my future
Now I'm so scared of my past
You replaced Jesus with whiskey
You find the spirit with every glass

And I don't wanna see your face
Cuz I know it ain't the same

So I'll call back
We'll have a few words
As I calm down
Cuz I know goodbyes
In my heart now
And I just want you to feel loved
(You to feel loved)

So I'll call back
We'll have a few words
As you come down
Cuz I know your high
Is my fall now
And I just want you
To feel loved

The best friend I used to know
Is now just a picture in a frame
I've learned I have no place to judge your pain
Until I feel the rush of getting hit in the face
As children we sat in church pews
And never knew we'd fade so quickly
You helped me realize that energetic
Does not mean happy or even mean healthy

I don't wanna see your face, no, no

So I'll call back
We'll have a few words
As I calm down
Cuz I know goodbyes
In my heart now
And I just want you to feel loved
(You to feel loved)

So I'll call back
We'll have a few words
As you come down
Cuz I know your high
Is my fall now
And I just want you
To feel loved

You taught me anything can be a mask
If you can hide from your own sanity
No peace is found in a task until You've learned to take responsibility
So make your work hard enough
To not want to give up on life

Prove to yourself there is more to this
Than to just survive
Forgive yourself
