

Iudex

Hour of Penance

Standing tall on the throne to discern right from wrong in silence
No compassion for the ones who beg for mercy and cry
The sledgehammer bangs the hall and resounds too loud in the darkness

Judging every trial
The blade shall fall down
To decapitate
Decontaminate
Those who shame the law

For criminals no guillotine
To end the taint we torture thee and peel the skin
Confess your sins
On public squares we show your end

Iudex, escalate the pain
Kill one to educate a hundred

For criminals no guillotine
To end the taint we torture thee and peel the skin
Confess your sins
On public squares we show your end

Confess

The sentence brought to light your contempt for our rules and ethics
Condemnation for your disgraceful misconduct has come
The mass slaughter of the clans is a delight, it's our grand vengeance

Judging every trial
The blade shall fall down
To decapitate
Decontaminate
Those who shame the law

For criminals no guillotine
To end the taint we torture thee and peel the skin
Confess your sins
On public squares we show your end

Iudex, escalate the pain
Kill one to educate a hundred

Iudex, escalate the pain
Kill one to educate a hundred
