Parallel lives

Housse de Racket

We walk the parallel lines
Living parallel lives
There's a hidden song
Coming along

We're different yet the same
We can climb the mountain
An intersection
On the horizon

We might even die today
We must go our own way
An intersection
On the horizon

It's the parallel lines
In the end we'll meet
Let's go where the sun shines
In the end we'll meet

It's the parallel lines
In the end we'll meet
Let's go where the sun shines

In the end we'll meet

Stop and start again
We won't wait for something to happen
We won't wait for the stars to align
We walk by parallel lines
An intersection
On the horizon

These are the parallel lines
We are all walking by
These are the parallel lines
We are all walking by

It's the parallel lines
In the end we'll meet
Let's go where the sun shines
In the end we'll meet
