How to Dress Well

When I want to understand
When I can't understand -
I look to you:

And know that what I'm waiting for
Won't know me
Won't have a face
I listen - you're breathing -
That's all that it takes

I'm gone - now you're ready

You're not going to understand that
I can't understand -
I won't look to you

And won't ask you
To remember: the pain
Was so raging, so great
That sometimes we laughed just to Keep us awake

I'm gone - now you're ready

What altar could we possibly heal upon?

Nothing left to desecrate
Just let it rot

I thought it was a pool of blood, but
Then the cameras stopped

No:
There's no goal
There's no God
Break my skull rip it off
