

Roll Right Up

Howard Jones

Will the moon keep shining on
Can you stop the world from turning
Stop running away from things that might fail you
You have what you need you are the one

You can't hold a person down
'cos the truth will find it's opening
You must take it on the things you must feel
We all feel the same you are the one

Roll right up and feel it see the world
Prison doors are open wide
See the world you need it

You were born with something special
You were forged in open fire
Stop running away from things that might fail you
You have what you need you are the one
