

Tin Man Song

Howard Jones

Automate my every move
Triangulate my actions
I want to find the real love
A visceral reaction

I broke my heart in the algorithm
I lost my soul in the binary night

I want to hear the nightingale
Ponder the horizon
I need to dream of distant stars
And marvel at creation

The tin man's song is never over
A silent verse and no refrain

I broke my heart in the algorithm
I lost my soul in the binary night
The tin man's song is never over
A silent verse and no refrain

Feel the joy and take the pain
Dance the bossa nova
Meet a stranger on a train
Gracefully grow older

I broke my heart in the algorithm
I lost my soul in the binary night
The tin man's song is never over
A silent verse and no refrain

No refrain... its never over... its never over

It's never over in the algorithm
It's never over in the binary night
The tin man's song is never over
A silent verse and no refrain

I want to hear the nightingale
Ponder the horizon
(In the binary night)
Feel the joy and take the pain
Dance the bossa nova
(And no refrain)
It's never over
