

Note To Self

Howards Alias

For so long you've waited in the wings
To finally catch your chance to sing to me
With all sincere feelings

Oh now you've waited, here's your chance
So stop, be counted and stay strong
Remember to sing from the heart

As time has passed I've opened up
To try and stop all this bad luck
I'll find I need to try and live

In ways which make my soul feel blessed
With all being, not regret
If it feels right, sing from the heart

Music is expression
So use it
To address what we have inside
Our lives
We should all be singing
Music is expression
So use it
To address what we have inside
Our lives
We should all be singing now

Here we sit
In this empty room waiting
All eyes fixed on doorways for faces to come
It's anguish, it's torment
Thus rendering our will to be where we are
Now we're pretty much done
They're towering over us
Hiding in doorways
Filling the cracks between all that we are
I can't help but wonder how long it will be
Before cracks turn to rubble and it turns too far

Our time is passing so be quick
Let go your feelings or you'll sink this ship
Take all of this down too

Mistakes were made as time has passed
This time will be different just you watch
Remember to sing from the heart

Music is expression
So use it
To address what we have inside
Our lives
We should all be singing
Music is expression
So use it
To address what we have inside
Our lives

When we'll kill to own mobile phones
Something tells me that we all need help and
When we go around, knocking graveyards down
Just for fun, when we're drunk
Something's wrong and
So is it just me
All these things I see
All around, I'll point out we need to change
If we want to carry on
Make all people strong
Strong enough to avoid where we're heading

Music, oh it should be expression
So use it
To address what we have inside
Our lives
We should all be singing
Music is expression
So use it
To address what we have inside
Our lives
Our lives
Our lives
Our lives

We can see the world