

Damaged

Howie Day

Take a picture of yourself
A world where no one else
Imagines you were there
And you start to know
How it feels loving you
Nothing's real

Won't you take me? Won't you wake me to the lie?
I feel a little damaged
Change me, won't you make me alright?
And I'll feel a little damaged tonight

I'm sinking like a stone
I thought you'd like to know
I was deeper than a well
Then you came along
I fell so hard for you
I just lost my guard

Won't you take me? Won't you wake me to the lie?
I feel a little damaged
Change me, won't you make me alright?
And I'll feel a little damaged tonight

You can take away the pain
Can take away the love
You gave me everything I can't give up
So, leave me with this night, yeah...

Take me, won't you wake me to the lie?
Won't you take me? Won't you wake me to the lie?
I feel a little damaged
Change me, won't you make me alright?
And I'll feel a little damaged (tonight)

Won't you take me? Won't you wake me to the lie?
I feel a little damaged
Change me, won't you make me alright?
And I'll feel a little damaged

Nah hoo...
