

Deadly Acid

Howler

Lights fade out and hell awaits for me
I think it's time to say good-bye
Does what I see, hear and feel is real?
There's no one to rely on
If you dare to touch it you'll get burned
And nobody will come to save your world

Because it is a deadly acid that came to screw your life
It quickly annihilates your dreams, wake up and realize it
Because it is a deadly acid that came to steal your light
Your life passes before your eyes, run from the deadly acid now

You lie awake in bed
And try to understand
The chaos in your mind
Temptation takes us on its path
I can see the acid everywhere
It is hungry and ready to attack
Can I stand its wickedness?
If you dare to touch it you'll get burned
And nobody will come to save your world

Because it is a deadly acid that came to screw your life
It quickly annihilates your dreams, wake up and realize it
Because it is a deadly acid that came to steal your light
Your life passes before your eyes, run from the deadly acid now

I feel the rage feeding on my past
A desire for revenge arise
I want to wipe out everything around me
But the acid will consume my mind
If you dare to touch it you'll get burned
And nobody will come to save your world

Because it is a deadly acid that came to screw your life
It quickly annihilates your dreams, wake up and realize it
Because it is a deadly acid that came to steal your light
Your life passes before your eyes, run from the deadly acid now
