

Endless Cemetery

Howler

Six feet under, all alone
Living death is what I breathe
Facing evil on the road
Spreading the disease

The slaughter will never end
Only silence will prevail
Ambushing the enemy
Destruction, my command

(Chorus)

There's no more morning light
Fire extinguished in a second
Finding pleasure in the kill
Pain, famine, war

Endless... cemetery! Endless!

Completely consumed by pain
Finding pieces of myself
Facing emptiness again
Ashes blowing in the wind

An absolute disaster
All beliefs falling behind
An unexpected ending
Burning curtains falling down

(Chorus)

Death!, the war will never end
You don't know what's going on when agony, lies and cries
Don't seem to stop

You fight tyranny and greed
And to assuage the feeling of death
But this cruel game has exposed your weakness

Rise or just rot in the grave
There's no more a mere human can do
Maybe you should pray for help

Remember the night of your death
Can you feel what it did to you the Clan of the Lost?
Can you taste the power?

The end game, the smell of death
Faith no longer smiles again
How can I contain the rage?
Everything will blow away

Sealing my own destiny
Pride and glory, what is that?
Running with my heart in fear
Everything remains behind
