

Looking in the mirror you're losing control
Something evil dwelling deep in your soul
You think you're going crazy but it isn't your mind
Feel! Your blood is boiling and burning inside

A ray of light is glowing, invading your room
Even you are running it's still after you
The light is getting closer, there's no way out
You're looking through the window, it's a full moon!

(Chorus)

Howling forever
Unchain the beast you have inside
Howling forever
Something evil will arise
Howling forever
There is nothing you can do
Howling forever

Freedom is your calling, now it's your time
Feel the amusing power and never hide
Fed by the moonlight, there's nothing to fear
You waited for so long, now do what you please!

It was a great feast, now you're satisfied
You did it by your own hand, there was no one behind
Guilty is how you feel as the moon says good bye
You're screaming once again asking why

Running, falling, bleeding
Screaming, chasing, killing

(Chorus)

Once again you're running away
Leaving a trail of blood behind you
You don't know how to stop it
But you know you don't want to die

A group of hunters is chasing you
They're coming with hate and fire
You can smell the silver bullets in their guns
As the moon shows its face again

Looking in the mirror you're losing control
Something evil dwelling deep in your soul
You think you're going crazy but it isn't your mind
Feel! Your blood is boiling and burning inside

A ray of light is glowing, invading your room
Even you are running it's still after you
The light is getting closer, there's no way out
You're looking through the window, it's a full moon!

(Chorus)
