

Inhaler

Howler

I want my spirit to go beyond
To raise among the dead to be reborn
Between millions of strangers to appear again
With souls around struggling to survive

We must fulfill the task one more day chained to a fight without redemption again
Through a road without destination and faith
Paying for the actions of a vicious way

The day of reckoning is coming and it can't be stopped
Some people pleasantly rest while many others pay with pain
Anybody can hide but no one will ever escape
Never escape

To the punishment, the death sentence
I can't take it anymore
Remember, the death sentence
Asphyxiation, I can't breathe

One more day painted on the wall
The damned await in a cold black hole
A feeling of malice harder as the rock
Leads them to lose the use of reason

I want to make my soul transcend
To get the power and fly from the flames
Once and for all paying my damn debt
I will be free from hell if I beat the death

The day of reckoning is coming and it can't be stopped
Some people pleasantly rest while many others pay with pain
Anybody can hide but no one will ever escape
Never escape

To the punishment, the death sentence
I can't take it anymore
Remember, the death sentence
Asphyxiation, I can't breathe

Souls in desperation falling away
Trying to escape from the fire and flames
Fighting silhouettes without faces and shape
Hellish creatures eating our illusions and faith

Millions of spirits coming out of my heart
Ripping the veins and everything inside
I want to know the answer to this pain
It's too late to my world, it's running out of air

The day of reckoning is coming and it can't be stopped
Some people pleasantly rest while many others pay with pain
Anybody can hide but no one will ever escape
Never escape

To the punishment, the death sentence
I can't take it anymore

Remember, the death sentence
Asphyxiation, I can't breathe