

The Mercenary

Howler

Searching for your place in life and a reason to live
Nothing is worth fighting for, there's nothing to believe
Misery, pain, agony and greed is what you see
You travel the land to appease the beast

(Chorus)

But you have a mission
Try to remember your goal
A dark veil is covering the whole world
You're the last hope of freedom

Take your sword and join the force, it's time get some fun
Every head that you take off is money and gold
Turn this light to shade again and show them the despair
You're the guide to the other world, mercenary!

Once again the smell of blood is getting to your brain
Acting frantic and reckless, you are in ecstasy
You found brothers to rely on, a friendship among the dead
The answer is to kill an to live another day

(Chorus)

Searching for your place in life and a reason to live
Nothing is worth fighting for, there's nothing to believe
Misery, pain, agony and greed is what you see
You travel the land to appease the beast

(Chorus)
