

Poor Wind That Never Change

Howlin' Wolf

Although the road don't have no end
Although the road don't have no end
Long the road that don't have no end
It's a bad wind for a man that don't never change

Have you ever heard a church bell talk
Have you ever heard a church bell talk
Have you ever heard a church bell talk
Then you know the poor boy dead and gone

When there are eight white horses in a line
When there are eight white horses in a line
When there are eight white horse standing in a line
They gonna take me down to my burial ground

Tell them the lay my grave with a silver spade
Tell them the lay my grave with a silver spade
Tell them the lay my grave with a silver spade
Tell them to lay me down with a golden chain

There's a long road for man don't have no end
There's a long road for man don't have no end
