

First Time

Hudson Westbrook

She said I was a problem
A problem that she needed, she couldn't avoid it
The thought of her and me, said she was the answer
To the prayers my momma's praying
Worth all the time that I've been waiting

And we never made it past that first goodbye
Like I'd never seen a pair of sky blue eyes
Ever since that moment, I've been watching days fly by
Every time I see her, it still feels like the first time

How did it happen?
A miracle or chemical reaction
Two lone stars, aligned outside of Austin
I still feel it in my chest
To this day, I still feel the way I felt back then

And we never made it past that first goodbye
Like I'd never seen a pair of sky blue eyes
Ever since that moment, I've been watching days fly by
Every time I see her, it still feels like the first time

We never made it past that first goodbye
Like I'd never seen a pair of sky blue eyes
Ever since that moment, I've been watching days fly by
Every time I see her, it still feels like the first time

I said she was the answer
Answer to the prayers that I've been praying