

Sober

Hudson Westbrook

Started with "Hello, darling"
Ended with "Don't go, darling"
What you put in your eyes, don't say it ain't nothing
You had me stumbling, it had to be something

I was in love last night
Better than a bourbon high
That sundress was spinning me out of my mind
Turning me on, one kiss at a time
I was hanging on
Never had something that hit me so strong
You've got out of the buzzin' and none of the hangover
My heart's on a bender, I'll never be sober

Playing for keeps, darling
Let's keep it in these sheets, darling
Why fight a feeling that's feeling just right?
Might have this habit the rest of my life

I was in love last night
Better than a bourbon high
That sundress was spinning me out of my mind
Turning me on, one kiss at a time
I was hanging on
Never had something that hit me so strong
You've got out of the buzzin' and none of the hangover
My heart's on a bender, I'll never be sober

You can pour every bottle
Down that kitchen sink
As long as I hold you, hold me
Baby, that's all I need

I was in love last night
Better than a bourbon high
That sundress was spinning me out of my mind
Turning me on, one kiss at a time
I was hanging on
Never had something that hit me so strong
You've got out of the buzzin' and none of the hangover
My heart's on a bender, I'll never be sober

I'll never be sober, baby
You've got out of the buzzin' and none of the hangover
My hearts on a bender, I'll never be sober
