

Sooner Or Later

Hugo Helmig

I hope I only fall in love one time
I thought the wisdom I would need was one line
I wish I didn't make the same mistakes two times
Who would I be without all of the bad times?
Can you appreciate all of the good times
If you don't know there's gonna be a last time?

Now do you believe in coincidences?
And do you believe that some things were meant to
Some things are given, the rest is up to chance

Sooner or later
If all of the things I heard are true
We learn to love all our failures
'Cause they're a part of what made us
Sooner or later
If we're lucky enough to make it through
We learn to love all our failures
'Cause they're a part of what made us

Who would I be if I just walked a straight line?
I strayed from the path a few times
But it's none of your business, don't you mind
Oh, and if you think about it
Some people only wanna show their good sides
At least I'm not the only one with bad sides
At least I'm not the only one tryin' to figure it out

Sooner or later
If all of the things I heard are true
We learn to love all our failures
'Cause they're a part of what made us
Sooner or later
If we're lucky enough to make it through
We learn to love all our failures
'Cause they're a part of what made us

Do you ever feel your life is a wreck?
And days that were good changed in a second
To something you wasn't expectin'
And it feels like losin' every time

Sooner or later
If all of the things I heard are true
We learn to love all our failures
'Cause they're a part of what made us
(Be what you wanna be)
Sooner or later
If we're lucky enough to make it through
We learn to love all our failures
'Cause they're a part of what made us
