

Superman

Hugo Helmig

I'm a survivor
But we're trapped in a video game
And I don't wanna play with fire
I just wanna get home safe

But I still feel like you're superman, so
How could I forget your name?

I'm in disguise, yeah
And I'm living in a house of glass
Everyone's looking at me
They don't even know that I'm acting
On the other side and laughing

I've been here for twenty-two years
Seen twenty-two guys in the same year

I've been here for twenty-two years
Seen twenty-two guys in the same year

Sometimes the silence
Makes a whole lotta noise
When it all gets a little bit louder
I lose my soul superpowers
I don't even have a choice

I wonder when I'll understand that
I'm not your superman anymore

You know I'm a provider
So why you take care of me?
Yeah, I know that I'm always changing
And IRL but I'm faking that
My life's amazing

I've been here for twenty-two years
Seen twenty-two guys in the same year
