Anchor

Hulvey

I don't have it all together but Jesus I got You
I've realized how weak I am, yeah, I need You to get me through
Who am I? I've wasted so much time
Listening to all of the lies
But in Your light that's where I shine
C'mon, c'mon

When I feel worthless
You say I'm worth it, yeah

You are my rock in the storm
You are my shelter
You are that light through the door
You are my anchor
You pick my heart off the floor
You give my soul a home
I am enough in Your arms
You are my anchor
Oh-oh-oh-oh
You are my anchor
Oh-oh-oh-oh
You are my anchor

I'm honestly nothing without You, so why do I still try to doubt You?
It's not about talking about You, it's building my whole life around You
You are the anchor that holds me down
Whole world trying to slow me down
I just need You to show me now
Show me now, show me now
How to love You with everything
To lay down all my inner pain
Put all the trust in Your name
Take my life and the center stage
This a broken anthem
We surrender with our hands up
On my knees for the King, I can feel the breeze
You are the answer

When I feel worthless, when I feel worthless
You say I'm worth it, yeah, worth it, yeah, yeah, yeah

You are my rock in the storm
You are my shelter
You are that light through the door
You are my anchor
You pick my heart off the floor (Off the floor)
You give my soul a home (Soul a home)
I am enough in Your arms
You are my anchor
Oh-oh-oh-oh
You are my anchor
Oh-oh-oh-oh
You are my anchor
Oh-oh-oh-oh
You are my anchor, woah-oh
Oh-oh-oh-oh
You are my anchor
