

Damascus

Hulvey

In the distance
I can hear You calling me
Help me listen
Even when it's hard to see (I'm searching)

Distant memories, eyes to the sky
When everything was silent and my heart had learned to fly
I been searching for that feeling, maybe it's just lost in time
Maybe it's just me, maybe it's my mind
God I need to hear Your voice 'cause I'm so tired of hearing mine
I need to hear Your voice 'cause there's so many on my line
I heard that when You shine, it make a man go blind
But when You open up his eyes, he sees for the first time
Let it breathe, the more I know about You the more I learn about me
I lost sleep worrying about my heartbeat
I hit the interstate, tears running down my cheek
You know it's really faith when the only thing you see is Nothing at all, you only hear the call
And I can feel the pressure like my back against the wall
So tell me who will break my fall, God

Give me eyes to see
I'm trying to search for who I'm made to be
Tell me is Your love given for free
It's what I really need

I was in a hard place
Thinkin' 'bout the future, listen I can feel my heart race
The world say college, God said no
The world said stop, Hulvey, God said go
Only got one life but we livin' like it's two
What if we could see it from a birdseye view
Looking down, realizing there's a path you didn't choose
The biggest regret is not doing what you called to do

You feel like your back against the wall, yeah
Man, I'm feelin' like my back against the wall, yeah
I was feeling like, I was feeling like

I was feeling like my back against the wall, yeah
I was scared 'cause I would have to give it all, yeah
Jumped off the deep end, now I'm swimming I ain't fall, yeah
I felt the freedom for the first time, ah yeah
I was feeling like my back against the wall, yeah
I was scared 'cause I would have to give it all, yeah
Jumped off the deep end, now I'm swimming I ain't fall, yeah
I felt the freedom for the first time, ah yeah

In the distance
I can hear You calling me
Help me listen (I need You Jesus)
Even when it's hard to see (I'm searching)
This my moment now
This my moment now
I'm gon' own it now
We gon' hold it down
This is your moment dawg

You gon' hold it down, down
You gon' hold it down
Done goin' through the motions now
I'm tired of going through the motions