

Boy With Stick

Hum

If I had to settle up now, I'd really need to find you
If we have to die alone, let's take a walk and watch the bugs f uck
Like when you sleep still

I knew one day you'd die, I promised not to cry
A noise inside a mind, and everything is fine
And the world rings on the next blue, or heaven kissed a road t o you
And I have to spot it in you
You'd gradually, between the sunsets, touch me with your eyes
But I come clean from your tears now, I really hate to shine
And I have to settle up now, a million billion souls, so always know I tried

I knew one day you'd die, I promised not to cry
A noise inside a mind, and everything is fine
And everything is fine
