We don't need your cyber dreams or these techno product schemes Until it's used for her needs the Earth continues and she bleeds You're power's all behind a name You haven't seen that you're to blame billboards in front of sights They're beautiful they too have rights

We don't want you presence here if you help to spread the fear
We don't want your presence here if you help to spread the fear

Sell your dream!
Your TV image scheme!

It's our story it's your lies!
Try to see with open eyes Another sale of spin and twirl another piece of your world!

Someone's mommy you tricked me made me think that you could see the influence of your own hand shaping this land as far as anyone could see you were only on TV
as someone else's mommy
