

Seems To Register Zero

Hundred Reasons

Using your faith to diminish mine
Hence the parting a second time
Looked for solvent moments in your life
Invert problems trade your smile
But you were always on time
You were always on time
Severed moments that could change a life
Place your hopes on a never
Take the graces of stereotypes
Making tokens of gesture
Making changes that would seem alright
Looking closer that's a lie
Once escaping not what I thought right
Chased my rainbow held it tight
But you were always on time
You were always on time
Severed moments that could change a life
Place your hopes on a never
Take the graces of stereotypes
Making tokens of gesture
The worst thing take charge of
You know I thought more of you
Severed moments that could change a life
Place your hopes on a never
Take the graces of stereotypes
