

She Is Poison

Hundred Reasons

I can deal with everything
Take a piece and throw it against me
There are questions in your eyes
Same old story time and again
If the future falls apart
All my friends will think I am crazy
To be with you for the always
Maybe this time I should stand my ground

Shut up shut up I really don't wanna know
Your eyes always hide how you're feeling
Shut up because this is where we go home
And leave you alone

She is poison I'm tearing my hair out
What will it take to get through to you
Things are not what I thought they would be now
But I'm not gonna speak my mind

These walls they'll build themselves around
And pretty soon
You're marching with your eyes closed
And we'll leave you
Leave you alone

Shut up shut up I really don't wanna know
Your eyes always hide how you're feeling
Shut up because this is where we go home
And leave you alone

Shut up shut up I really don't wanna know
Your eyes always hide how you're feeling
Shut up because this is where we go home
And leave you alone

These walls will build themselves around
And pretty soon
You're marching with your eyes closed
And we'll leave you
Leave you alone

She is poison I'm tearing my hair out
What will it take to get through to you
Things are not what I thought they would be
Now

Shut up shut up I really don't wanna know
Your eyes always hide how you're feeling
Shut up because this is where we go home
And leave you alone
