

Leave Yourself

Hundredth

I can't do it on my own
But I try
Lose my faith
Can't get my blood to rise
I'm guilty of four walls
I built deeper than wide
I skip the funeral
Just have a night

Save your eyes
Stare into the light
Can you leave yourself behind
Can you leave yourself behind
Can you leave
Can you leave yourself behind

I can't tell when I'm on Either side
Push it down
Just to feel alright
I thought if I could keep it all intertwined
Maybe we could drop the rope and watch it unwind

Save your eyes
Stare into the light
Can you leave yourself behind
Can you leave yourself behind
Can you leave
Can you leave yourself behind

And we've already wasted so much time
So lose your grip and dive into the night
And we've already wasted so much time
So lose your grip and dive into the night

Leave yourself behind
(So lose your grip)
And can you leave yourself behind
(So lose your grip)
Can you leave
(So lose your grip)
Can you leave yourself behind
