

Homesick

Hunter Hayes

I wake up every morning in a house for two But it's hard to say good morning to an empty room

I talk to your pictures like I'm talking straight to you And I tell you that I love you and I'll be home soon

This is what I come home to day after day
An empty house, a lonely feeling
and a scary place to stay

When I say I'm going home
this can't be it
Cause if home is where the heart is than why am I homesick

Well I search for the things that complete my life
But I know my better half is no where in sight

You're just a call away anytime I choose But it still won't put me home to you

Ooooooooooh

This is what I come home to
day after day
An empty house, a lonely feeling
and a scary place to stay

When I say I'm coming home
this can't be it
Cause if home is where the heart is
than why am I homesick

When I go to sleep
I'm right where I belong Because I dream of you and I'm finally home
