Space

How you liking yours I sure got a lot these

Days

So much time that I find so many ways

To waste

Could be why I'm wasted, could be why you didn't

Stay

A broken heart and brown liquor

Most dangerous of all the mixers

It ain't a medicine it ain't a fixer

It shouldn't but it makes me miss you quicker

So hey, I'm not sorry that I called just sorry that I called

So late, I said I was fine

No baby no

No you're gone but I can't let you go

Truth is I lied

I still love you but hate how you said I would find someone

Better for me like you know

No baby no

No baby no

Change

It ain't the empty bed or taking pictures out the frame

It ain't the silence no it's every time I hear you

Say it's better say it's for a reason

I ain't as good at picking up the pieces

It should be over, should be closure, should be sober

No baby no

No you're gone but I can't let you go

Truth is I lied

I still love you but hate how you said I would find someone

Better for me like you know

No baby no

No baby no

Every night I have the same dream

I watch you walk away from me

Wake up still screaming still screaming

No baby No

No baby No

Truth is I lied

I still love you but hate how you said I would find someone

Better for me like you know

No baby no

No baby no

Cause, I love you but hate how you said I would find someone

Better for me like you know

No baby no
