

Operating

Hunter Hunted

So here we go again, just like I said I would, for you
You end up all alone in your broken throne for two The mirrors in the sky, they show us how we lie, it's true

And all the people go, all the people go
I was only operating, I was always on your side
I was only operating and I tried

The chemistry is gone, just pour it out before you go
I wish you could believe, I meant it all for you to know
The mirrors in the sky, they show us how we lie, it's true

And all the people go, all the people go
I was only operating, I was always on your side
I was only operating and I tried

I was only operating, never meant to make you bored
I was only operating, now it's gone

The chemistry is gone, just pour it out before you go
I wish you could believe, I meant it all for you to know
The mirrors in the sky, they show us how we lie, it's true

And all the people go, all the people go
I was only operating, I was always on your side
I was only operating and I tried

I was only operating, never meant to make you bored
I was only operating, now it's gone
