

Monochrome

Hunter Metts

The cracks in the walls are deeper
And were getting dark
We're an empty field
We're a passing car
The same lines in the hand I'm holding
And it's the same heart
But your face is a blur
I don't know who you are

Sitting here
Growing cold
Tonight I feel like a shadow
The colors bleed
From you and me
I look in your eyes but they're hollow
Tell me it's the end if we're losing light
I don't wanna love that's black and white
Where nothing grows
We're dying slow
When did it go
Monochrome?

Where nothing grows
We're dying slow
When did it go
Monochrome?

Someone that I used to know is
Somewhere deep in your eyes
But we're the leaves on the ground
We're a grayscale sky
The longer it goes
The more we fade away
You feel a little too far
It's like we're frozen in place

Sitting here
Growing cold
Tonight I feel like a shadow
The colors bleed
From you and me
I look in your eyes but they're hollow
Tell me it's the end if we're losing light
I don't wanna love that's black and white
Where nothing grows
We're dying slow
When did it go
Monochrome?

Where nothing grows
We're dying slow
When did it go
Monochrome?
