

Break This

Hunter Valentine

She's walking on time
She's breaking right through
She's lost in a cuff and can't get out to you
You're buying her love
She's empty enough
The joke cold heart could fill her right up

S'not eaten for days
Who cares what they say
Your love is a joke, you're a walking cliché
When she starts to cry
And you don't know why
It's 'cause you're a part of her little lie

You're breaking my heart this time
You're breaking my heart this time

And when she gets quiet
She'll tell you she's fine
But she doesn't want you, she knows that she's mine
And when you're inside her, look her in the eye
And you'll see the sadness of our last good bye

She calls me a liar
We know who you're with
She's crying about how you make her feel bad
And she can't run from this, but she can hide
She's falling to pieces over her empty insides

You're breaking my heart this time
You're breaking my heart this time
You're breaking my heart this time
You're breaking my heart this time

You're breaking my
You're breaking my
You're breaking my heart

You're breaking my heart
You're breaking my
You're breaking my heart

This time (4x)
