

Incomplete

Hurt

I find it
So frightening
You changed me
(Molded and broken me)
When I needed some comfort
You sold it to me

And now I can't deny
You should hate me for the things that I've done
Even though I try
As I push through my teeth with my lungs

I'm incomplete
I'm in complete control of you
You think that it's sweet
No one should have this hold on you
Cause I'm incomplete
I'm in complete control of you
You think that it's sweet of me
But no one should have this hold on you

When you needed to advance just a step for yourself
Part of you waits, part of you won't
Dead fast asleep in a dream you call home
All of us wait
None of us know

That you can't deny
You should hate me for the things that I've done
Even though I try
As I push through my teeth with my lungs

Cause I'm incomplete
Yeah, I'm in complete control of you
You think that it's sweet
But no one should have this hold on you
I know you have needs, my friend
But I shouldn't have control of them
Cause I'm just a creep, a trend
That shows you ways your mind can benefit

When you needed to advance just a step for yourself
Part of you waits, part of you won't
Dead fast asleep in a dream you call home
All of us wait
None of us know

That you can't deny
You should hate me for the things that I've done
Even though I try
As I push through my teeth with my lungs

And now
That I'm in control of you
Even though I tried
To show you proof

But now I can't deny
You should hate me for the things that I've done
Even though I try
