

Why You Fly

Hush.

Where' you at little bird
and why you fly so low come to me my little bird oh why you want to fly so low

Sometimes I just want to give you everything I have tie you down and make you mine oh why you look so sad
where's your head at little bird
and why you fly so low

I just can't understand
why you want to go ahead and chain me
I just can't understand
why you want to keep me down and tame me

In a fine, shiny cage
I can keep you near me in a tiny, shiny cage
I can finally keep you near me

Sometimes I just want to scream and break your wings in half I give you everything I have and still you look so sad
where's your head at little bird

why you want to go ahead and chain me
I just can't understand

This ain't love, you know it's just an illusion you won't win my heart with this intrusion my mind stays free...

Chorus...
Where' you at little bird
