

The Worlds Stage

Hyro The Hero

She a God damn devil in a red dress
High heel on with the breast poking out the chest
Nothing less than the best is her fashion sense
High profile so she only wants success
She sucks seed so she can succeed
She only 18 gold digging for green
On the set of videos with a bunch of hoes
She wants to stand out she the one that take off her clothes
Now she on the front of magazines
With her ass out thinking she a beauty queen
Feels self worth when people watch her bounce her butt
A million views on YouTube for dancing like a fucking slut
But ima tell you straight up girl you just a nut
When niggas bust they move on to another on Emotional scars old age wrinkles come
Your 15 min of fame is now done

The world's a stage
We are its entertainers
We're not afraid
Of being broke and famous
All that we want
Is your attention from you, you, you

He want to dress the part cause he got rap dreams
This ain't the 90s these niggas wearing tight jeans
Skinny little brother following whatever's trending
Got so many tattoos
He's looking like a burnt victim
He even made a dance
Where he's dancing all feminine
And started kissing men because his favorite rapper did it
The shit is just ridiculous can't understand the times
Cause the nigga got signed writing kindergarten rhymes
One hit wonder made money so quick you can't say nothing to that brother
Spend it how he get it
Had the money, clothes, women
Thought he would have been living
Like this until he finished
But reality struck second single flopped
Didn't know what to do when the record stopped
Should have saved money instead of having fun
Your 15 min of fame is now done

Reality shows not life all script
Reality stars think they A-list
Famous for nothing
Act as if the world owes them something
And we do
We owe you the truth
We need to stop lying to you
Cosigning confiding
In things that don't better society
People after that quick buck
Shit sucks for the ones that really give a fuck
