

Sing

I Am Empire

You are worthy of a great song So worthy of a good son that I could never be You are evidence around me Elegance resounding By grace I am restored But inside I don't feel alright

I can't help but sing Waiting for the warm spring Winter wears me down Fall into the ground I can't help but sing

You are a beautiful disaster Running so much faster Like water through my veins You are the hope that lives inside me A faith that is arriving whenever I start to doubt But inside I don't feel alright

I can't help but sing Waiting for the warm spring Winter wears me down Fall into the ground I'll wear for any sound Lie here until I'm found I can't help but sing

Raise the voice inside Call the dream to life Open up my eyes tonight

I can't help but sing Waiting for the warm spring Winter wears me down Fall into the ground I'll wear for any sound Lie here until I'm found I can't help but sing Waiting for the warm spring Winter wears me down Fall into the ground I'll wear for any sound Lie here until I'm found I can't help but sing
